Elementary Economics Workshop
for K-6 teachers

Offered by: IU South Bend Center for Economic Education and Indiana Council for Economic Education

Where: IU South Bend, Administrative Bldg.
Alumni Room (second floor)
1700 W Mishawaka Ave, South Bend

When: Monday, November 17, 2014
9:00 a.m. – 2:30 p.m.

Overview: Teachers! Don’t miss this informative, creative, and very valuable workshop on the basics of economics that your elementary students need to know. All concepts are found in the Indiana State Social Studies Standards. You will learn concepts and hands on activities that you can implement immediately with your students, including activities from Playful Economics (where students use play dough in each lesson), Herschel’s World of Economics (Herschel is a dog puppet!), Adventures in Economics and U.S. History, and more. You will also learn about literature connections that will help you teach language arts and economics at the same time. Free curriculum materials are provided – see below.

Workshop Presenter: Dr. Harlan Day

Cost: No registration fee! Workshop costs are covered by generous contributors to the IU South Bend Center and the Indiana Council for Economic Education.

You receive:

- Box lunch
- Playful Economics curriculum
- Your choice of one of the Herschel’s World of Economics DVD’s
- Documentation for PGP points

Plus: Reimbursement to your school corporation for the cost of your substitute is available.

TO REGISTER:

Go to http://www.econed-in.org/workshop_details.asp?ID=634 to register online. Need more information? Contact Dr. Raj Kohli (rkohli@iusb.edu) or phone (574) 520-4144. Sign up now! Space is limited.

It is the policy of Indiana University to provide reasonable accommodations or academic adjustments when necessary. If you require auxiliary aides and services due to a disability, contact Dr. Raj Kohli (rkohli@iusb.edu) or Shelly Surber (surber@purdue.edu). Purdue is an equal access/equal opportunity university.