SOUTH BEND -- Do you have an old computer, cell phone, TV or other outdated device sitting around home you'd like to get rid of?

The fourth annual Waste Recycling Fest will be held May 11 and 12 at Indiana University South Bend.

Consumer electronics may be dropped off in the campus parking lot at 20th and Vine streets. All electronics will be recycled free of charge.

Businesses, nonprofits and other organizations may drop off items from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. May 11. Businesses and groups planning to participate should register in advance at indiana.poweron.com.

The general public may drop off items from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. May 12. The public need not register.

Items that will be accepted for recycling include computers, keyboards, speakers, wires and cables, TVs, stereos, DVDs, cell phones and traditional phones, pagers, office equipment, fax machines, microwave ovens, photo copiers, surge protectors and typewriters. For a complete list of electronics that will be accepted, visit http://www.iusb.edu/csfuture/ewaste.php.

The following items will not be accepted: batteries not integral to computer systems, contaminated equipment, cracked or broken CRT screens, hairdryers, hazardous material, most household appliances, light bulbs, smoke detectors or plastic foam.

Recycling services will be provided by Apple Inc.

Copyright © 2012, South Bend Tribune